

BASS IN TALK LAUDS LEAGUE

Former President Taft Makes Address at Meeting of Committee.

Considering that "the wickedest man in the world today is the way the League of Nations is being talked about and misrepresented," Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, chairman of the national Democratic committee, at the Democratic rally at Augustana last night, launched into an earnest defense of the league, urging her audience to forget party lines and to support the champions of the league in the foremost offices of the state and nation Nov. 2.

"The league covenant does not conflict with Article X," she said, "as the Republicans would have you believe. It begins with article I and between article I and X there is article VIII which provides for the disarmament of reduction of arms in all nations that are members of the league. The trouble with the American voters is that they are too stupid to read what this man says. He never reads the covenant himself, yet, and he showed a small leather bound copy of the covenant aloft. It is all written in this little book and in language that every man and woman can understand."

Millions League Enemies.
 Referring to her discussion of article X, Mrs. Bass ridiculed those who believed that the league was anything but a peace measure.
 Her address centered about certain Republican leaders, whom she declared had favored entering the league covenant until it became the bone of contention in the present campaign, when they deserted their stand on the league for party politics.

"Former President Taft believes in the league," she stated, "but he shares with many other Republicans the superstition that the government of the United States is conducted better under the Republican party. He wants to get party men in with the hope that afterwards they will be able to manage Harding."

In a similar manner she quoted pre-campaign statements of Senator Lodge, Herbert Hoover and others.

"The League of Nations is in existence," Mrs. Bass continued.
 "The treaty of Versailles is made, 61 nations have signed the covanant, the league council has met, the assembly is going to meet, the international labor association has convened in Washington and the financial division will assemble in a few days. The league is here to stay. We either go in or stay out, but we make no other league unless we make it with Mexico, Turkey and Russia. There remain no others."

This statement was greeted with a burst of applause from an audience which, having waited for Mrs.
 Bass' arrival in an auditorium for an hour and a half that must have been heated by a Republican janitor were literally just warming up to the subject.

League and Ireland.
 Mrs. Bass devoted a few minutes of her address to the Irish question, stating that the worst thing that was done by the Republicans in the present campaign was to alienate the Irish vote from the Democratic party.

"The Irish voters in America in voting for the party that supports the league would not only be doing a great thing for the world, but a great thing for Ireland," she declared. "Governor Cox in a speech made in New York less than a week ago stated that if elected the first thing he would do would be to go before the league council and ask 'What about Ireland?' The league council is the only forum for the case of Ireland."

Fight Just Begun.
 Mrs. Bass concluded her discussion of the league with the statement that "the fight has just begun because the peace of the world has not yet been made." She addressed her closing statements to the women who composed three-fourths of her audience, urging them to forget party lines and to give their attention to the principles at issue.

"I cannot believe," Mrs. Bass said, "that you women will permit the Republican party to stand between you and the advancement of your country. I cannot believe that this new vote and these new forces will support a reactionary movement."

Mrs. Bass devoted her opening statements to praise of the Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois, James Hamilton Lewis, saying the principles and supporters of Len Small and Thompson Tammering.

Mrs. Bass spoke of the black name which Mayor Thompson had given the city of Chicago, and forecast that Illinois would suffer similar stain if Len Small is elected governor.

She paid a beautiful tribute to Senator Lewis and enumerated incidents in his career as a senator wherein he upheld the right of women to have the ballot and had defended their cause on the floor of the senate. Mrs. Bass went on further to say that the alignment of women belonged with the Democratic party because that party had recognized women already, not only in its national committee, but in its most important proceedings at San Francisco.

LAUD ENGINEER FOR QUICK WORK IN TRAIN WRECK

Passengers Credit Saving of Many Lives in "Q" Crash to John Kelsey.

(Special to The Argus.) Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 30.—Passengers from Galesburg who were on Burlington fast train No. 55, enroute from Chicago to Galesburg, Thursday night, when its engine crashed into a derailed stock car near Wynet, were in the city unharmed today, owing their escape from injury to quick work by Engineer John L. Kelsey of this city.
 Fireman John Kopf of Meriden, Ill., was killed in the wreck, and Engineer Kelsey escaped only by jumping after he had set the air brakes and sanded the track when he saw the inevitability of a collision. The accident occurred at 8:30. Wynet is about fifty miles east of Galesburg, between Buda and Princeton.

Dr. C. B. Horrell, a physician of this city, was, with his wife, among the Galesburg people on the train.
 He testified yesterday morning that an unpleasant jarring and sudden stopping of the passenger coaches was the only intimation passengers had of the wreck in which the fireman was killed, until they emerged from the cars and saw what had happened. Dr. Horrell took personal charge of Engineer Kelsey, who suffered injuries to his left shoulder as well as bruises. Kopf was pinned beneath parts of the locomotive and scalded to death by escaping steam.

Signals were right and the road reported clear immediately before the wreck. Mr. Kelsey said yesterday that No. 55 was speeding along at the rate of 50 miles an hour. A locomotive headlight was shining on the eastbound track, and its glare blinded the engineer until the passenger train was nearly up to it. When they passed the freight locomotive they saw the crew of that train making frantic signals to stop them; in the same flash they saw ahead of them on the track a stock car, apparently hurled to one side by a bucking car of the freight train. Hitting it could not be avoided, and so Mr.
 Kelsey applied the air brakes and sand, shouted to the fireman that he had better jump, and jumped himself just as the collision was about to occur. He landed in a patch of heavy weeds. The engine struck the portion of the freight train which lay on the track, and was thrown down the 12-foot embankment into a cornfield, carrying the fireman, who had not jumped, with it.

Nov. 22—Miss Rose McHugh, Miss Lillian Deisenroth, Miss Cyrilla Schaub, Mrs. Ed Lerch and Mrs. J. Grothusen.

Jan. 3—Mrs. John Dolly, Miss Mary A. Hern, Miss Alice Meehan, Miss Katherine McNellis, Miss Hazel Broderick.

March 17—Mrs. J. Stockdale, Mrs. Charles Kimbel, Miss Grace Day, Miss Catherine Fuller, Miss Sarah Gibson, Miss Mary Cavanaugh and Miss Margaret B. Ferry.

T. J. O'MARRON, GROCERMAN, UP IN ARSON CASE

Owner of Farney Grocery Jailed by Fire Marshal as Result of Blaze Thursday.

T. J. O'Marron, 1215 Twenty-first avenue, owner of the Farney grocery store, 1928 Third avenue, is in the Rock Island city jail today charged with arson as the result of a fire at the grocery store early Thursday morning.

O'Marron was placed under arrest at 9:30 o'clock Friday night by Patrolman James Green at Fourth avenue and Twenty-first street, on a warrant sworn out by Deputy State Fire Marshal Charles Matson of Moline, who has been making investigations in this city for several months.

O'Marron was placed in a cell immediately after his arrest and orders issued that he be not allowed to talk to any one. He is 45 years of age and has conducted the Farney grocery for a year.

The case is scheduled to come up for preliminary hearing before Magistrate D. J. Cleland in police court this evening.

The fire at the grocery for which O'Marron is now charged with arson occurred at 7:10 o'clock Thursday morning, according to the time chart at the central fire station.
 The firemen on arriving at the store found a pile of burning in the rear of the store burning. The blaze was extinguished by use of chemicals. The loss was nominal and was said to be confined to only the slightest damage to stock by smoke.

Fire Chief August Schmidt accompanied Deputy State Fire Marshal Matson in the investigation, but would make no statement this morning as to what evidence is being held against the groceryman.

FARMER RESIDING NEAR ERIE PASSES

 Erie, Ill., Oct. 30.—John Huizenga, living on a farm near Erie, died shortly before noon Thursday after a brief illness. His death comes as a great shock to his family and friends, as he was taken ill only Wednesday night with an attack of heart trouble. He was 65 years of age and is survived by his wife and the following children: Herman, John, Jake, Robert, Earl, Mrs. Fattie Voss, Mrs. Elsie Van Kampen, Mrs. Edith Wierenga, Mrs. Jennie Dykstra, and Annie, at home. The children all live in the vicinity of Erie. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

SOME ELECTION ENTANGLEMENTS FOR NEWLYWEDS

A brand new question arises that may be of interest to the women only recently joined in marriage. It concerns her eligibility to vote under her maiden name if she is registered in that way.

The argument is advanced that she is no longer Miss So and So, but is Mrs. Etc., and consequently loses her right to call for a ballot and be checked off under her former name.

It will sure be tough luck if a young bride loses this first opportunity to vote on the all-important office of president. But then she may regard the joys of connubial bliss as of much more importance than the mere satisfaction of marking a ballot.

But on second thought it may not be so bad after all. Fact is, Mrs.
 Newlywed can go to the polls and be sworn in under her new name.
 This eliminates a possibility of her vote being challenged.

So much for that outlet for the difficulty, but it still looks bad for the new housewife. Supposing she has accompanied her husband into his precinct for her new home—as most girls do—and the 30 day residence rule cannot be established.
 She sits out of luck for good, then, because the status of the husband does not hold good in matters of residence.

FINE FOUR FROM ROCK ISLAND ON BOOZE CHARGES

 eral Court.

CREDIT ALL NEW APPLICANTS UP TO NOVEMBER 4

Extend Time Limit on Woodmen Drive to Give Workers Full 30 Days' Time.

The committee and deputies in charge of the Modern Woodmen of America membership campaign have decided to give credit for all new applications written up to and including the date of Nov. 4, instead of ending on Oct. 30. This decision was reached, it is said, because the 30-day campaign did not begin until Oct. 4, on which date Special Deputy Bert Oakman arrived to assume active direction of the work. This will give everybody a full 30-days' opportunity to write new members. Arrangements for the banquet and class adoption at Masonic temple on the evening of Nov. 4 have been completed. Tickets to which each new member written for the county class is entitled, are to be obtained in advance from Assistant Head Clerk Phillips at the head office, as well as the tickets for the members who have written applications. This will avoid confusion and delay at the banquet and the committee is urging all clerks of camps to obtain these tickets for distribution to the new and old members immediately. Marx M.
 Harder, who has been selected as master of ceremonies, says the program and banquet committees have arranged for one of the biggest and best affairs ever pulled off in Rock Island.
